Brook Farm Group Chooses Anthony Ranallo for Construction Director Position

By: Lisa McDuffie

Atlanta, GA-based Brook Farm Group, a multifamily investment and development firm, has hired Anthony Ranallo as construction director.

Ranallo has 10 years of experience in construction project management, supervising multifamily, institutional, and commercial projects spanning multiple states. For much of his career, Anthony has focused on multifamily capital replacement projects as an owner's representative.

Before joining Brook Farm Group, Anthony managed the Atlanta Regional Office for Eastern Construction. He was responsible for developing a customer base and subcontractor pool for multifamily capital projects in FL, GA, TN and the Carolinas.

Anthony previously served in program and project management roles with Aimco Apartment Homes and Emory University.
